Since $32=9$ and $3>0$, the answer is . Notes: (1) We can also begin by factoring and dividing each side of the given equation by 5. $5(2^2-9)=0$ $2^2-9=0$ We can then add 9 to each side of the equation to get $2=9$, and then proceed as in the solution above to get $=3$. (2) The equation $2=9$ has two solution $=\pm 3$.

Out of date. The new SAT math has more data analysis problems which this one lacks. The sections it covers are good but it does not cover all of the types of problems covered by the current SAT math sections. The book needs a big revision or replacement. The author really likes palindrome problems. He puts a lot of them in the Number Theory sections.

protect yourself. Beware of other books on the market that claim to be as good as Dr. Warner's. Other tutors and authors, while very intelligent, often make a mistake by teaching every student how to solve problems in the same way. They do not understand the philosophy of the test and do not always know how to translate their own genius into points which would fit a specific student's needs depending on his/her math level. "320 SAT Math Problems" is perfect for your SAT math prep for 5 reasons:

1. Dr. Warner realizes that every student learns differently and this is one of the reasons that many problems are solved in several different ways using different strategies. Every student will be able to find a solution that is a perfect fit for him/her. More advanced students will especially benefit from Dr. Warner's method of providing multiple solutions by helping them develop many methods to help them solve new problems, and to give deeper insight into the problems themselves so that those problems can be solved more quickly, more easily, and with no chance of making careless errors.
2. There are 320 SAT math problems to practice with split into 5 levels and distributed among the 4 general topic areas covered on the test. Explanations of the solutions are so thorough and comprehensible that even second language speakers can easily follow them.
3. The book is designed to generate huge SAT score increases with only 20 minutes of math preparation each day. By arranging the problems by topic and level, you can easily pick out the problems that you need to focus on to raise your score without wasting time on problems that are too easy or too difficult for you.
4. Dr. Warner's teaching methods will naturally increase your mathematical maturity so that your potential score increases simultaneously with your actual score. This means that you can actually become capable of getting an 800 even if you were not before picking up the book. The information in the introduction alone is enough to raise your SAT math score up to 50 points before you even attempt one math problem.5. Dr. Warner has had to teach SAT prep for 14 years to accumulate the powerful combination of insights and strategies found in this book. Years of experience, a Ph.D. in math, and a unique approach have led to the ultimate product that outdoes any other SAT prep book. While other books teach general mathematical knowledge, Dr. Warner's strategies are designed to exploit the test's weaknesses, which allow students to save huge amounts of time, avoid careless mistakes, and answer questions correctly while avoiding messy algebraic computations whenever possible.
