Burnout Inventory (MBI) is validated by the extensive research that has been conducted in the more than 25 years since its initial publication. The MBI Surveys address three general scales: --Emotional Exhaustion measures feelings of being emotionally overextended and exhausted by one's work. --Depersonalization measures an unfeeling and impersonal response toward recipients of one's service, care treatment, or instruction. --Personal Accomplishment measures feelings of competence and successful achievement in one's work.

Edition This book aims to provide professionals and clinicians-in-training with the latest forms of treatment for children and adolescents who have been impacted by crises and trauma. The various treatment options presented here include approaches that focus on the individual as well as many that include a parent in conjoint or filial therapy, and others that employ a family treatment model. Many chapters in this book demonstrate the use of a variety of creative methods with young people who have suffered traumatic experiences such as sexual abuse, bullying, immigration, natural disasters, and witnessing violence"--

Adolescence is typically fraught with problems, even under optimal conditions. And when chronic illness is added to the picture, medical and related social issues can complicate, and even disrupt, the course of development. The first text geared toward the integrated care setting, Behavioral Approaches to Chronic Disease in Adolescence offers clinicians an evidence-based guide to helping their young clients manage their chronic conditions and treating the psychosocial effects—from school problems and stigma to noncompliance and depression—that frequently follow diagnosis. Expert contributors present up-to-date information on epidemiology,
