Personal essays are about yourself, so it is important that your point of view and tense be consistent with this. Personal essays are almost always written in first person tense, using the pronouns I, we, and us to tell what happened. Readers need to know what something was like from your perspective.

~~6 Steps to Writing the Perfect Personal Essay~~

The personal essay is a dialogue between the thinker who thinks, the writer who writes, and the reader who reads. The use of wit, humour, and irony will help give the essay a conversational tone. By displaying your individuality, you widen the readers' view of who you are. The essayist must be a good storyteller.

Although you may be writing about a different topic, the purpose of most essays is the same: to inform, to persuade, and/or to entertain. Within the story you are telling in your personal essay, come up with a bigger truth or an overall takeaway for your readers (this is a lot like a thesis in a formal essay). There's a better option out there!
